Scrap League-Harding *** Save League Cox

WILSON SCHEME
NOT WORTH SAYING,
DECLARES HARDING

Republican Candidate
Tells Iowa and Nebraska
Voters the United States Must Stay Out of Versailles League and Reject Covenant.

HE WANTS U. S. TROOPS CALLED FROM GERMANY

Harding Says American Soldiers Have No Business There, and Statement Is Cheered—Opposes Over-Zealous Law and Order Crusades.

Omaha, Neb., October 7.—On the farthest westward swing of his campaigning Senator Harding urged today that the nation stay out of the Versailles league of nations altogether and reject the obligations of the league covenant.

Declaring that clarifying reservations would not meet the requirements of national security, the republican nominee put before the voters of Iowa and Nebraska a direct issue of accepting or declining membership in the league.

"I do not want to clarify those obligations," he said; "I want to turn my back on them. It is not interpretation but rejection that I am seeking. I understand the prediction of the democratic nominee and he understands mine. In simple words, it is that he favors going into the Paris league and I favor staying out."

The senator's declaration on the league was made at a forenoon gathering of several thousand in the Coliseum at Des Moines, and later was repeated in varied form at several smaller Iowa cities and at
a night meeting in the Omaha auditorium.

16 Speeches During the Day.
In sixteen speeches during the day he also restated his position on various other issues of the campaign, and during his train journey
here he was repeated in varied form at
several smaller Iowa cities and at
a night meeting in the Omaha auditorium.

various other issues of the campaign, and during his train journey
here he was repeated in varied form at
several smaller Iowa cities and at
a night meeting in the Omaha auditorium.

Senator Albert Cummins, candidate for re-election, accompanied the presidential nominee through the state and in each of his speeches
the latter asked for Mr. Cummins' election. In several of them he praised the Cummins-Esch railway law as an accomplishment unequalled
in progressive legislation for a decade.

At the Des Moines meeting the nominee carried on a colloquy with several men in the crowd who asked him questions about international policies.

In the course of the discussion,
which kept the big hall for a time
in confusion, he outlined his position on the Irish question, declared American soldiers in Germany should be brought home as quickly as possible, reasserted his belief that no separate peace with Germany would be necessary and declared
the nation would be guilty of "the grossest dishonesty" if it assumed the obligations of the league and then refused to furnish troops at the league's call.

Overzealous Law Crusaders.
Pledging himself to law enforcement, the senator warned in his speech here tonight against overzealous law and order crusades and against "the iron hand of carism"
in the methods of those in authority. By being "a little more generous" in its attitude toward minorities, he said, the government could help to quiet discontent and to keep the agitators within bounds.

The candidate also declared his opposition to wholesale pardons for political prisoners, and reiterated his faith in the practice of deporting undesirable aliens.

"No true American will argue that our laws should not be enforced,"
he said. "For my part, I can see no essential difference between ordinary crimes and ordinary criminals on the one hand, and political crimes and political prisoners on the other. I have been asked many times whether I would grant general amnesty to political prisoners. I would not. A general grant of amnesty to political prisoners is no

Caterers' Club
Has Joined Fight
On H. C. of Food

A resolution, offering their sincere condemnation of profiteering,
and their co-operation in any movement among Atlantans to reduce the high cost of food, was Thursday afternoon passed by the Atlanta Caterers' club, an organization composed of heads of 28 of Atlanta's eating places.

The committee, composed of Arthur Wiseberg, chairman; George Colts,
Charles Keramidas, W. F. Felker and Andrew Valeras, was appointed to lend aid to any possible investigation which might be made. E. L.
Thornton is president of the caterers' organization, and an ex-officio
member of the committee.

The adopted resolution follows:
"Whereas, at the present there is much agitation to investigate the high prices in the restaurants and cafes in the city of Atlanta;

"Whereas, the American Caterers' association, chapter No. 2, of Atlanta, assembled in meeting this 7th day of October, 1920, and interested in the matter that food be served in the city of Atlanta at proper and legitimate prices;

"Whereas, the American association chapter No. 2, of Atlanta, does condemn profiteering and high prices of any character or description for food served in any restaurant or cafe in the city of Atlanta;

"Whereas, the mayor of the city of Atlanta, under request by the city council, has appointed a committee to look into this matter;

"Be it Resolved, In the spirit of the highest co-operation, that the American Caterers' association, chapter
No. 2, of Atlanta, appoint a committee of five members to lend all possible aid and assistance in a practical investigation and roundtable of high prices charged for food by the restaurants and cafes
in the city of Atlanta, that is to be conducted by the committee appointed by the mayor."

Charge Is Made in Testimony Given at Dayton, Ohio, Before U. S. Senate
Probing Committee.

Dayton, Ohio, October 7.—Use of dummies to conceal the source of contributions to a $37,000 campaign fund used in the gubernatorial election of Governor Cox, the democratic presidential candidate, in 1916, was charged in testimony here today before a senate subcommittee composed of Senator Pomerene, democrat, Ohio, and Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey.

Though inquiry primarily was to ascertain the disposition of the proceeds of a $5,000 note alleged to have been given by Governor Cox, August 16, 1917, to the City National Bank of Dayton, and paid by the Dayton Metal Products company, June 23, 1918, as well as why
the Dayton Metal Products paid the note, the committee tonight had proceeded no further in that direction than to establish the existence of the note and the check given in payment. They were introduced in evidence and identified by Walter Davidson, vice president of the bank.

Collected $37,000 Fund.
Through Adam Schantz, a member of the Dayton food prevention committee, and also through testimony of Mary E. Scudder, New York accountant, it was brought out that Colonel E. A. Deeds, H. E.
Talbot, C. F. Kettering, Mr.
Schantz and Walter Kidder, who each gave $7,000, and F. M. Tait, who gave $2,000, a $37,000 fund had been subscribed to help re-elect Governor Cox, as Mr. Schantz expressed it, "for the purpose of preserving the law (conservancy law)
through Governor Cox."

This money, they testified, had been turned over to Mr. Schantz, who said that he had given $31,000
to three associations to be used in furthering the protection of the conservancy law enacted as a food prevention measure for the great Miami valley, in which Dayton is situated.

These associations, he said, were
the Forward Looking association,
the Independent Voters' league and the League for Protection and Preservation of the Workmen's Compensation Law.

Name of Schantz Absent.
Certified copies of expense statements, filed with the secretary of state, under the corrupt practices act, which were introduced in evidence, showed the first to have received a total of $12,000, and spent $12,637.73; the second to have received a total of $8,200, and have spent $8,191.60; and the latter to have received a total of $10,800,
and to have spent $10,780.33. Mr.

GOVERNOR MOVES
TO END ACTIVITY
OF NIGHT RIDERS

Apprehend Those Guilty
of Warning Cotton Gins to Cease Running, Dorsey Tells Carroll Sheriff.

WARNS OF BOLSHEVISM
IN BLOW AT INDUSTRY

Will Offer Rewards If Threats to Burn Gins
Are Executed—Brown Appeals for Law and Order.

Declaring that if legitimate business can be interfered with by threats to destroy cotton gins unless they cease operating, bolshevism has already arrived in Georgia, Governor Hugh M. Dorsey, Thursday afternoon, wrote Sheriff
W. A. Garrett of Carroll county, urging him to apprehend those guilty of issuing warnings to ginneries of his county, and pledging
his full support in the matter.

Commissioner of Agriculture J. J.
Brown at the same time issued a statement, in which he declared that cotton growers were only injuring themselves by such unlawful actions.

In his letter to the sheriff of Carroll county, Governor Dorsey stated that posting of notices on gins to cease operating, is a misdemeanor,
and that while he is not authorized
under the law to issue rewards for
the apprehension of those guilty of such crimes, should threats to burn ginneries be carried out, he would be "very glad to offer the highest reward permissible under the law."

"If we permit the legitimate business of planting cotton to be interfered with, or owners of ginneries to be intimidated by these notices, and the perpetrators to go without punishment, the next step will be to punish merchants to close their stores, and banks to close their doors," the letter continued.
"If legitimate business can be interfered with in this way, then bolshevism has already arrived."

Brown Sends Warning.
Commissioner Brown reiterated
his warning to farmers with reference to threatening ginneries, and declared that "what we want to do is to let Secretary Houston know that the south has always been loyal; that we have always been patriotic; that the signs which have been posted around gins in some sections of the state do not express the real sentiment of the south."

Threats to burn gins unless they were closed immediately have been posted in several sections of Georgia, and the situation has reached such an alarming stage that Governor Dorsey was appealed to on Thursday by prominent citizens to take steps to put a stop to actions of so-called "night riders."

Notices posted on several gins near Bowman read as follows: "We,
the citizens of this section, hereby ask that this ginneries be closed until November, 1920, unless further notified. Please take notice."

Similar notices have been posted in other states in the cotton belt,
and at Cullman, Ala., a store was burned on the failure of the mayor
to grant to close as ordered by "night riders." It is to prevent such violations of the law as this in Georgia that Governor Dorsey wrote the sheriff of Carroll county to apprehend the parties making threats.

Cotton Bids to Act.
At the meeting of the Georgia division of the American Cotton association in Atlanta today official action will be taken to prevent any further posting of threats in this state, it is said, while J. S. Wams-maker, president of the organization, has already issued a statement urging the farmers not to resort to such methods.

The governor's letter to Sheriff
Garrett is as follows:
"Hon. W. A. Garrett, Sheriff of Carroll county, Carrollton, Ga.
"Dear Sir: I am reliably informed that notices are being posted in certain places in your county that the operation of cotton gins must be discontinued, otherwise the gins
will be destroyed."

"Section 782, Park's Annotated
Code of Georgia, volume 6, says:
'Any person who shall threaten,
by posting any writing or printed matter, to injure, damage, or destroy,
by burning or other means, any gin,
ginneries, barn, dwelling, stable,
storehouse or any other house containing valuable property, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.'"

"The posting of a notice in itself, therefore, is a violation of the law
of the state."

Dangerous Beginning.
"It is your duty, and I am sure
it will be your pleasure, to apprehend, if possible, parties guilty of violating this law."

"The governor is not authorized
under the law to issue rewards for

56 Foodless Days
Cause MacSwiney
To Long for Death

Irish Lord Mayor Realizes
There Is No Chance of Being Released and Wants Speedy End.

BY PERCY SARR,
United News Staff Correspondent.
London, October 7.—Lord Mayor
MacSwiney, of Cork, still alive
though very feeble after fifty-six days of hunger striking in Brixton
jail, now realizes that there is no chance of his being released and wants to die, according to his sister, Mary MacSwiney.

"He told me that he does not want his life prolonged by artificial means," the sister said.
Meanwhile the state of public opinion in connection with the Mac-Swiney case has undergone a peculiar change—in fact, the death of the lord mayor now would cause considerable surprise to the public-at-large, although weeks ago this same public expected his death hourly.

Even those who are convinced that MacSwiney is really fasting seem to expect him to survive indefinitely. The family of the lord mayor still keeps watch at the bedside.

The strain has laid its unmistakable marks on the faces of the watchers. The hair of the lady mayor has turned gray and the faces of Sean and Mary MacSwi-ney, brother and sister, respectively, of the hunger striker, are deeply lined.

The British authorities are convinced of the presence of Peter MacSwiney, elder brother of the lord mayor, who shipped as a common sailor from New York and entered England without a passport in order to reach the bedside of his brother. The government contemplates no action against Peter,
it was announced.

Eighty-Four Days
Without Eating
For C. Objector

Washington, October 7.—While Benjamin J. Salmon, a conscientious objector, continued his hunger strike, which began July 15
when he was admitted to St. Elizabeth's military hospital here,
attorneys for Salmon today sought to obtain his release from the institution through habeas corpus proceedings. The Civil Liberties league of New York is aiding in the efforts to obtain Salmon's release.

Immediately upon being brought to St. Elizabeth's from Fort Douglas, Utah, Salmon, whose home is in Denver, refused to eat, and despite partly successful attempts at forcible feeding, he has maintained
his attitude for 84 days.

HARDING STRIVES TO MAKE BREACH IN SOLID SOUTH

Republican Leader Apparently Looking to Dixieland as a Profitable Field for Political Venture.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER,
United News Staff Correspondent.
New York, October 7.—Senator Harding's acceptance at Des Moines
of the Cox charge that he favored scrapping the Versailles league of nations, and stood for a separate peace with Germany, reveals for the first time the extent to which republican "plans for action" on this international problem have assumed definite shape.

As stated in these dispatches yesterday, Harding has been in constitution on the subject with the last three weeks, and some very concrete proposals have been considered. And as further stated, all of these proposals started from the basis that the so-called "Wilson league"
would be scrapped and a peace
without it would be effected with Germany before a new project for an international association was undertaken.

But, while Harding himself, and his immediate advisers have known of these developments for some time, Harding has waited until now to declare them so definitely and openly. It may be regarded as cer-

SCHOOL SYSTEM
OF STATE FACES
FINANCIAL CRISIS

Failure to Pay Customary 10 Per Cent of Appropriation Forces Schools to Prospect of Floating Additional Loans.

EXTRA LEGISLATIVE SESSION PROPOSED

Fullbright Again Argues
for Reassessment of Taxable Property to Relieve Georgia of Financial Embarrassment.

For the first time in years Georgia has failed to pay its school system 10 per cent of the annual school appropriation, which this year
amounts to $400,000, to meet its current expenses, thereby leaving the superintendent with only one course to pursue, that of floating loans to finance the operation of schools throughout the state. This was learned Thursday afternoon.

The school appropriation for 1920 made by the last session of the legislature is $400,000 and to date
none of this amount has been paid
the state school superintendent,
while in past years it has been customary to make a payment of 10 per cent of the annual appropriation during the first week of October.

This amount coming from corporate taxes, "the money" which was to have been paid the schools this year has been used for necessary
purposes, it is said.

With the larger state educational institutions now facing their most serious crisis in years on account of the failure of the legislature to provide sufficient funds to meet operating expenses, and the treasurer unable at present to advance the usual 10 per cent to the state school system, Superintendent M. L. Brittain declared yesterday afternoon that the present situation is due to improper taxation.

Facing Monetary Appropriation.
Unable to meet the customary school payment this year, the state faces a school appropriation of $450,000 next year, a half million more than the 1920 fund, and the question which naturally arises, said Tax Commissioner H. J. Fullbright
last night, is, "will the state not find itself in an even worse situation in 1921 unless our tax system
is changed?"

The proposal of Mr. Fullbright, which he announced several weeks ago, and which is termed a plausible method by which the state can solve its financial difficulties, calls
for an extra session of the legislature to enact laws calling for a reassessment of taxable property throughout Georgia. Even this would not provide immediate relief,
it is stated, but it would insure the prompt payment of 10 per cent of the annual appropriation to Superintendent Brittain and would place
the larger state educational institutions on a solid financial basis.

The state will probably have sufficient funds at the end of the year
to meet the school appropriation,
but with the superintendent forced to borrow on an average of $300,000
a month to meet expenses, it is pointed out that the state is spending an unusual amount of its funds
in the payment of interest.

It is estimated by the tax commissioner that Georgia will raise $900,000 this year from its taxes, while Virginia, a smaller state, with less population, will take $15,000-000 in its treasury. Under Mr. Fur-bright's plan, the state would receive at least $20,000,000 in its treasury next year, thereby relieving all financial embarrassments
of the state.

Could Lower Rate.
"The total assessed value for taxation of all classes of property in Georgia should be over four billion dollars," said Mr. Fullbright, "and if the state legislature should pass legislation during an extraordinary session, calling for a reassessment of property throughout the twelve congressional districts under district supervisors working under the commissioner, we could lower our tax rate by 50 per cent and still raise all the money we need to meet appropriations."

"At present the taxpayers figure the lowest estimate at which they can return their property," he continued, "and some are paying as low as 15 per cent, while only a few are making returns as high as 50 per cent of the real value of their property. If all property is returned for its real value, which would have to be done with the local equalizers working under dis-

Son's Perjury
Fails to Free
His Old Father

But Judge Evans Says
Boy Perjured Himself
"Like Gentleman" and Father Should Be Proud
of Him.

Macon, Ga., October 7.—(Special.)
B. F. Carden, a justice of the peace of Twiggs county, was sentenced to serve six months in the Bibb county jail and to pay a fine of $100,
when he was convicted in the United States district court today on a charge of moonshining.

Carden's son, Jule Carden, attempted to shield his father by pleading guilty to the charge, but the jury refused to believe him. On the stand young Carden swore his father knew nothing about the still and that he made the liquor when his father was away from home fishing.

In sentencing the justice of the peace, Judge Evans said to him:
"I admit the grit of your son in trying to shield you. He perjured himself like a gentleman, but I am sure you are guilty. He is a son you should be proud of."

R. Criswell, a white man aged 68,
came to the rescue of Elbert Rawls,
an aged darky, when the latter was arrested on a charge of illicit distilling. Though there was no charge against Criswell he voluntarily appeared in court and said he and not the negro was to blame. Criswell was sentenced to serve two months
and pay a fine of $100.

POLES STOP WAR

between the Poles and Lithuanians have ceased, it was announced at Polish headquarters here. This statement was made in connection with an announcement that the al-

Cox Fights Unrest
Kindled in South
In Nashville Speech

According to Hollomon, the Governor Seems to Have Results of Primaries in Mind—Drop in Farm Products Charged
to American Delay About League.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON, Staff Correspondent of The Constitution.

Nashville, Tenn., October 7.—(Special.)—When Governor Cox swung into a rock-ribbed democratic state
like Tennessee to make what is conceded by his traveling companions to have been the master stroke of his campaign he was inspired by the flame of unrest that has been kindled in the south by demagoguery and petty politicians, and his exhortation of them in his Nashville address tonight was as merciless as it was forceful.

While five thousand men and women cheered to the echo his per-cipient arraignment of the senate conspiracy that defeated the ratification of the Versailles treaty he brought the consequences to the very door of the agricultural south
by charging the present deflation
in cotton, corn, wheat and all farm products as the direct result of the failure of this nation to enter the league of nations, explaining simply enough for a child to understand that the lack of foreign credits was the cause and that foreign credits not be re-established while the war-torn nations are forced to maintain heavy armaments which they are compelled to do so long as the great power of the western hemisphere
keeps out of the league and plays
false to the solemn pledge and obligation to the nations with which she fought and won the great war for the noblest cause in history.

Horror of Expanding Bolshevism.
Governor Cox pictured the horrors of an expanding school of bolshevistic thoughts in this country
encouraged by the very conditions
of starvation and distress abroad that America's unloyal attitude has thus provoked.

The democratic nominee never spoke to a more sympathetic audience and a Georgian could not help but compare the warm devotion of the people of this state to the people of the foreign faith as compared to the lack of that devotion in a greater state where true democracy has but recently met a rebuke
that has caused the loyal upstanding democracy of the nation to bow
its head in shame.

It was clearly evident that Governor Cox had Georgia's two recent primary results in mind in the delivery of his speech in Nashville.
While he made no mention of them
his application of a convincing argument for the league of nations to the people of the south and his almost pathetic plea that petty politicians cease trifling with human consciences and interests by deception and by appeals to prejudice, Charles, if it was not for the loyalty as if the cloth had been cut for the garment.

Cox Like Roosevelt.
No man in America so closely typifies the late Theodore Roosevelt in progressive thought in unadulterated Americanism and in the aggressiveness of speech as the democratic candidate for president.
He is a convincing speaker, a logical burning with personal enthusiasm and inspiring in the sincerity of his delivery. He holds his audiences spell-bound and there is not a joke or a single cheap claptrap phrase to catch. He is earnest, but deliberate, and his speaking tour is one of wake of enthusiasm that not only contagious, but penetrating. I shall be with him through Kentucky tomorrow and if I am safe to say that when Governor Cox concludes his Blue Grass trail at Louisville Thursday night
the state will be more actively democratic than at any time since William Goebel sacrificed his life
to a great principle twenty years ago almost this day.

COX URGES LEAGUE
AS ECONOMIC MEASURE

Governor Is Glad That Senator Harding Has Finally Declared Just How
He Stands on League.
Cox Touches on Race
Question.

Nashville, Tenn., October 7.—Governor Cox, of Ohio, democratic presidential candidate, squarely
joined the league of nations issue
in an address here tonight with Senator Harding, his republican opponent. Referring to the senator's speeches today denouncing the present league, Governor Cox declared:

"Now, he's against the league;
I'm for the league."
"Not until today," said Governor Cox, "was it definitely known what the position of the senatorial candidate was on the league."
Declaring that he had asked audiences all through the west if they could give Senator Harding's position and declaring that from none
was a reply attempted, the governor
continued:

"Today in response to my questions he came out unreservedly against the league."
"Evidently he had heard from Brother Borah."

Ready to Meet Senate.
Governor Cox reiterated that as soon as "humanity" was restored March 4, he would "sit down with the senate" and consider the treaty and reservations. The democratic candidate repeated that any reservations which would hamper, clarifying and reassuring" would be accepted, from whatever source and the treaty would be signed.

Business questions were discussed

Population Figures
For 10 Largest States

Washington, October 7.—Here are the population figures for ten largest states, as announced by the census bureau:

New York, 19,284,144; Pennsylvania, 8,720,159; Illinois, 6, 483,098; Ohio, 5,759,368; Texas,
4,661,027; Massachusetts, 3,823,
356; Michigan, 3,667,222; California, 3,426,536; Missouri, 3,403, 547; New Jersey, 3,155,374.

The first six are the same as in 1910. Michigan advanced from eighth to seventh place; Missouri dropped from seventh to ninth;
New Jersey advanced from eleventh to tenth; Indiana slipped from ninth to eleventh.

Washington, October 7.—The 1920 population of continental United States was announced today by the census bureau as 105,683,108. This was an increase of 13,710,842, or 14.9 per cent, since 1910.

ROGERS'

population was now living in urban territory.

Preliminary tabulations, Mr. Rogers said, showed that 54,816,269, or 51.9 per cent, of the people were living in incorporated places of 2,500 inhabitants or more, and 50,866,899, or 48.1 per cent, in rural territory.

This situation was clearly reflected in the figures as to farms in the country which also were made public today. These placed the total of farms at 6,459,998; an increase of only 8,436, or 1.5 per cent, in ten years, as against an increase of 624,130, or 10.9 per cent, during the decade ended in 1910.

Mr. Rogers stated that while today's figures on the country's population were preliminary and subject to revision, the final official population, as transmitted to congress in December for apportionment purposes, was not likely to be greatly different, although it might be slightly larger through the addition of population for small sections claimed not to have been properly canvassed by census enumerators.

Revised figures for a number of cities and counties are yet to be announced, but the main work of the 1920 census is completed after nine months of labor.

Statement by Director Rogers. "The population of the United States, as announced today," said Mr. Rogers, "is 105,683,108, as compared with a total in 1910 of 91,772,286, and in 1900 of 75,994,575. This is an increase since 1910 of 13,910,822, or 15.1 per cent, as compared with an increase of 19,777,691, or 26.1 per cent, since 1900.

"The large falling off in the rate of growth for the country as a whole as shown by these figures is due mainly to an almost complete cessation of immigration for more than five years preceding the taking of the census in January last and in some degrees also to an epidemic of influenza, and to the casualties resulting from the world war.

"The results of the census of population in 1920, at first glance may seem somewhat disappointing, but the substantial accuracy of the enumeration in January is fully borne out by comparison with estimates based upon the probable excess of births over deaths throughout the decade and the excess of immigration over emigration. From all available data, it may be roughly estimated that the annual excess of births over deaths throughout the United States is approximately 10.3 per cent during the decade. Thus the nearly 22,000,000 persons present in the United States in 1910 might be expected to increase to about 101,700,000 in 1920.

"In addition, the excess of immigration over emigration during the decade was approximately 3,733,000. Since the black census of 1910, 1,000,000 persons came to the country during the first four years of the decade it may be roughly estimated that the increase due to excess of births over deaths in their families was about 10 per cent. Thus the population of the country may be assumed to have been augmented by about 4,000,000 during the decade through excess of immigration over emigration. The two estimates taken together would indicate, therefore, a probable population of 105,800,000, or only a small fraction of 1 per cent more than the total shown by the returns of the fourteenth census.

"The figures of the present census also show that the trend of population from the country to the city has become greatly accentuated since 1910. The census shows that the increase in the country's history, more than half the entire population is now living in urban territory, as defined by the census bureau. That is to say, of the 105,683,108 persons enumerated in the fourteenth census, preliminary tabulations show that 54,816,269, or 51.9 per cent, are living in incorporated places of 2,500 inhabitants or more and 50,866,899, or 48.1 per cent, in rural territory. At the census of 1910, the corresponding percentages were 48.3 and 51.7, respectively, showing a loss of 5.6 per cent in the proportion for the population living in rural territory.

"The Rural Population. "To show more clearly the change in the proportion of the population living in rural territory now, as compared with ten years ago, the rural population census is divided into two classes, namely, 9,864,196, or 9.3 per cent of the total population living in incorporated places of less than 2,500 inhabitants and 41,002,708, or 38.8 per cent of the total population living in rural territory. At the census of 1910 the population living in incorporated places of less than 2,500 inhabitants formed 8.8 per cent, while the population living in rural territory districts formed 44.3 per cent of the total population.

"The increase since 1910 in the population as a whole, as before stated, was 14.9 per cent, but during the decade there has been an increase in that portion of the population living in urban territory of 12,192,826, or 23.6 per cent, and in that portion living in rural territory of 1,727,996, or only 3.1 per cent, and if the comparison is extended to cover the two classes of population living in incorporated places of less than 2,500 inhabitants shows an increase of 1,745,371, or 21.5 per cent, whereas that portion living in purely country districts show an actual decrease of 227,856, or six-tenths of 1 per cent.

"The percentages of increase shown for the several states vary greatly, due in part to the causes which have been noted as affecting the increase of population of the country as a whole, but also in part to the abnormal internal movement of population required to meet the excessive demands of the war work in certain sections. For three states—Mississippi, Nevada, and Vermont—there have been small decreases in population, the largest decrease being for Nevada, 5.5 per cent.

Forty Weeks Tabulating Figures. "The census bureau to date has spent forty weeks in supervising the enumeration and tabulation of the country's millions. A similar period elapsed before the country's population was made public in 1910. This year, however, all minor civil divisions and incorporated places of each state have been made public with the announcement of the United States total, while in 1910 the census bureau's objective was to arrive at the total as soon as possible, leaving five states and their county civil divisions to be announced later. The work of the thirteenth census did not begin until April 5, and ended December 10, 1910.

On January 1, this year, 85,000 enumerators began counting the men, women and children of the country and collecting certain information concerning the nation's resources. Under the direction of Sam L. Rogers, chief of the census bureau, enumerators collected data on farms, manufacturers, forests and oil production and it is this work which will occupy the attention of the bureau from now on. A large force of statisticians and clerks will be retained to complete it.

Installation of modern commercial computing machines and the instructions sent out by the bureau early in January for the public to familiarize itself with census questions, are credited by officials as being mainly responsible for the rapid progress made in the enumeration.

POPULATIONS GIVEN FOR NINE STATES. Washington, D. C., October 7.—Populations of nine states were announced today by the census bureau.

Of the nine states, the populations of which were announced, Pennsylvania had the largest numerical growth. Its total population is 5,220,183, an increase of 665,048, or 13.8 per cent, and it thus remains the second most populous state.

Ohio, fourth among the states, has a population of 5,768,267, made the largest numerical increase in its history, adding 892,247, or 15.6 per cent, more to its population of 1910, and retains its present rank.

Michigan, with a population of 3,667,222, increased 857,049, or 23.5 per cent.

Louisiana, announced as 2,402,630, an increase of 178,859, or 8.0 per cent, more than makes up for the decrease shown for the state in the thirteenth census. It fell below North Carolina, which ranked directly below it in 1910.

Other figures include: Detroit, Mich., revised, 993,478; increase 127,912, or 12.8 per cent. Previously announced, 865,566. Tampa, Fla., revised, 51,608; increase, 12,226, or 25.6 per cent. Previously announced, 39,382. Key West, Fla., revised, 18,749; decrease, 1,196, or 6.0 per cent. Previously announced, 19,945. Philadelphia, Pa., revised, 1,823,779; increase, 274,771, or 17.7 per cent. Previously announced, 1,549,008.

Ramsey county, Minnesota, containing St. Paul (revised), 244,536; increase, 30,861, or 12.6 per cent. St. Paul, Minn., revised, 254,680; increase, 19,326, or 7.3 per cent.

Lowe's

Fall Painting
costs less than spring

There is at least one big reason why Fall painting will cost you less. Putting it off until next Spring, after your buildings have gone through another Winter's wear means they will take more paint to paint them. That's just the plainest kind of plain horse sense.

Then another thing: next Spring you will be so rushed with Spring work that you will put painting off until Fall—and so it goes on from bad to worse.

Any way you figure it, you can save money by painting this Fall. And speaking of saving—send for circular called "Figure Your Paint Costs with a Brush—Not a Pencil." Remember that Lowe Brothers' Paint is sold by the one best dealer in each town.

and Clifford Walker 50 counties, representing 142 unit votes, thirty less than he received in the first primary. One county, Towns, did not hold the primary.

The total unofficial popular vote from 143 counties shows Hardwick's total to be 84,257, while Walker's total is 68,234. The official vote of Fulton county, as consolidated by the democratic executive committee, in session Thursday, gives Hardwick 5,109, and Walker, 4,963, the former having a majority of 146.

Thomas county, which was previously credited to Walker, was later reported as being in the Hardwick column.

Mr. Hardwick, who will be formally nominated as the next governor of Georgia by the state democratic convention when it meets in

Macon October 25, gave out the following statement Thursday:

"Indications are now that I have carried more than 100 counties. I take this occasion for thanking my friends for the steadfast loyalty and splendid service they have accorded me in our fight for the people. I shall endeavor to the best of my ability to serve as governor all the people of Georgia and to give them a clean, decent and business-like administration.

Mr. Walker made the following statement:

"Permit me to express thanks to the devoted friends developed in this race. Many of them I have never seen. Mr. J. H. Dozier, my campaign manager, joins me in this expression of cordial gratitude. Against great odds we fought a hard but clean fight for real democracy, for loyal Americanism and for good citizenship, as interpreted by us. The only note of regret is the failure to lead to success the best of friends for whom our love will abide forever. In perfect good spirit, as private, we join the ranks of constructive optimists for renewed service to our fellowmen—to co-operate in every forward movement looking to the betterment of our people and the uplift of the state.

The successful candidate is now busy appointing delegates to the state convention, making his first appointments Thursday afternoon when he named James R. Nevin chairman; Walter Sims, Walter E. Vance, Jerome Jones, James K. Hines and W. W. Banks, as delegates to represent Fulton county. Alternates named are J. K. Jordan, Gordon Kiser, A. P. Spence, W. S. Wier, Carl Hutcheson and George W. Seals.

MILITARY CEREMONY FOR D. A. R. SERVICE

Occasion Will Celebrate the Founding of the Order.

At the anniversary services of the founding of the Daughters of the American Revolution on October 11 at 8 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church, Company A, First regiment of infantry, Georgia national guard, under command of Captain T. W. Buflin, will conduct the military ceremony. State and city officials who have been invited include Governor Dorsey, Adjutant General Van Holt Nash, Major Arthur McCullom, Mayor Key, officials of the chamber of commerce and President's club.

Company A is known as the Elizabeth rifles, having been named for Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, of New Orleans, who rendered invaluable assistance to the soldiers during the world war. The company will appear in full dress uniform, under arms, with stand of colors, the United States flag and Georgia state flag.

All patriotic societies in the city are especially invited to attend the ceremony, which is given under the auspices of the Joseph Habersham chapter of the D. A. R. Well-known Georgia women will make short addresses and a splendid musical program under the direction of City

BARROW COUNTY FAIR OPENS TO BIG CROWDS

Winder, Ga., October 7.—(Special.)—The Barrow county fair opened here on Tuesday with a parade of the school children of the county, numbering about 1,000, in line. The parade was headed by the fair band, followed by several floats representing the Red Cross, the Civic Improvement club, the corn and canning clubs, and the agricultural clubs of the county. The school having the largest percentage of its enrollment in line was awarded a prize of $25, Rockwell school winning the prize. The fair has an attractive line of shows this year and the best agricultural exhibits ever here. Several of the county's schools have good agricultural exhibits, and there are a number of individual exhibits being shown by the farmers of the county. The live stock exhibit this year is not as good as has been shown here at past fairs, but does credit to the county as a producer of registered cattle and hogs. It has been estimated that 4,000 people attended on the opening day.

We Lighted the Fuse Which Dynamited High Prices in Men's Clothes

The First Explosion on Ready-Mades was a good start—but it will take still another to meet the values and prices we are offering in made-to-measure clothes.

Come to Our Tailor Shop and Compare Our Values at $35, $40 and $50 on Suits and Overcoats

With the NEW PRICES of Ready-Mades, and if you can wait a few days for us to make them up we will get your order.

Tailor-Made Clothes vs. Ready-Mades

The pleasing satisfaction of wearing a Suit or Overcoat made to their individual requirements is appreciated by thousands of men. Recently they have faced the necessity of paying as high as $175 each for them, rather than wear ready-mades.

But conditions are changing. The backbone of high prices is broken, leaving raw materials for men's clothes in a distressing condition---actually crying for buyers.

We dropped into the market with ready cash, the result of which has placed in our hands hundreds of bolts of wools. We are making these up into Suits and Overcoats at prices which are baffling the buying brains of all ready-to-wear stores in this section.

Anticipating the volume of business that would necessarily follow these preparations, and realizing that it could not be handled in our Atlanta shop, we diligently sought and then selected what we found to be the finest tailoring house in America---The Storrs-Schaefer Co., of Cincinnati---to make up these wools to your individual measurement from your own style selection.

By this happy arrangement we can deliver, ON DATE DESIRED, an enormous volume of business.

Satisfactory Fit Guaranteed

Mr. (Bill) Apel, one of Atlanta's very best Cutters, is here to take your measure and see that your Suit and Overcoat are exactly right.

We give every customer individual attention and sufficient time to make careful selection, regardless of waiting patrons.

Liebman; first lieutenant, F. C. Holden; second lieutenant, Jack Corry. F. E. Hankinson was commissioned first lieutenant and was appointed adjutant. B. F. Daniel is staff and color sergeant.

WILSON REFUSES TO SHOW RECORD

In His Controversy With Senator Spencer—President Says There's No Peace Conference Record in United States.

Washington, October 7.—Today's contribution from the white house in the controversy between President Wilson and Senator Spencer, of Missouri, who charged the president with having definitely promised the aid of the American army and navy to Rumania and Serbia at the peace conference, was a statement by Secretary Tumulty that the president has no stenographic report of the eighth plenary session, at which the promise is alleged to have been made, and that so far as the president knows, there is no such record in this country. Senator Spencer called for the record.

Made to Council of Four. The statement, which the Missouri senator has charged to President Wilson, and which is being used as part of the republican campaign against the league of nations, is said, according to various published reports, to have been made by the president at a session of the council of four on May 31, 1919. Mr. Spencer, however, referred to it as having been made at the eighth plenary session of the peace conference.

"President Wilson tells me there is no stenographic record of the proceedings of the conference in his possession," Mr. Tumulty said, "and so far as the president knows, there is none in this country."

Mr. Tumulty added that "it was up to those making the charges" to produce the proof.

There was no intimation as to whether the president would make further reply to Senator Spencer.

This Writer Claims Copy. St. Louis, October 7.—It was announced at the office of Senator Spencer here today that a telegram had been received from Herbert Adams Gibbons, a writer, saying Mr. Gibbons was in possession of a copy of the stenographic report of a session of the peace conference in which President Wilson is alleged to have promised American military aid to Europe in event the "world is again troubled."

This alleged assertion of the president brought about the controversy between the senator and the president. Mr. Gibbons' telegram, it was stated, was sent from Elkins, W. Va. Senator Spencer was out in Missouri campaigning today and could not be reached.

Mr. Brown's statement follows: "What we want to do is to let Secretary Houston know that the south has always been loyal, that we have always been patriotic, that the signs which have been posted in some sections of the state do not express the real sentiment of the people. I know the man who produced cotton in Georgia, and these signs do not express the sentiment of the people. I hope farmers will impress upon the people of their communities where such signs have been posted that it would be a fatal mistake to resort to violence and lawlessness."

"I am informed that posting of these signs has been general throughout the south. Whoever may be backing this propaganda, I do not know, but if it is followed up by acts of lawlessness, it will injure the cotton growers."

You don't have to be "flat on your back" or so weak that you can hardly move, before taking a tonic. That's almost too late, yet Munyon's Paw-Paw Tonic will help you even then. The best time to take it, however, is when you feel yourself going, when the digestion goes wrong, or stomach or liver troubles, food distress, belching, dizziness, biliousness, or sick headache appear.

Munyon's Paw-Paw Tonic is particularly valuable to the nervous, weak or debilitated or those who have been using drugs or other stimulants to keep them "keyed up." Munyon's Paw-Paw Tonic makes recourse to these dangerous and destroying agents unnecessary as it supplies the weakened system with just the proper stimulus needed to restore lost vitality.

It is alleged that Bond attempted to blackmail Mr. Candler by sending him an anonymous letter, in which the recipient is said to have been warned to place $2,000 under the back doorstep of the residence at 21 West Cain street, "or we will get you."

Write McElwain shoes in your budget and you'll have just that much more for the Savings Bank

RUDYARD KIPLING is a very high-priced writer; he is said to have received as much as a dollar a word.

But you can write one word into your Fall Budget which will pay you more than that. Instead of writing merely "Shoes" write "McElwain."

For this is the McElwain principle:

To buy the hides direct from the producers of hides; to tan them in McElwain tanneries; to make each separate part of the shoe in a separate factory; and by making shoes for the millions to make them better for less.

And on this principle the McElwain business has become the largest of its type in the world.

Millions of men have discovered McElwain worth without even knowing the McElwain name. Today the discovery is easy for the name—"McElwain"—is stamped on the sole.

Whose Idea Was This?

It was yours!

Most advertisers offer their idea of service.

Therein lies the great distinction between common stores and our store.

Our style policy was determined by our customers. They had a right to demand only the best and we took steps to see that they got it.

Our price policy also was decided by our customers. They said: Give us the best clothing at a price that is fair - and of course we agreed.

Our policy of constant courtesy and square dealing was the result of a very natural demand that we, just as naturally, anticipated.

Our "Charge Account" policy our customers also decided. Peoplesaid: "Have you sufficient faith in us to open accounts for us?" And we answered: "Certainly! We will do that and more, we will let you determine the terms of payment to suit your convenience."

In other words-our customers run our Store. Does it pay? Ask the thousands and thousands of satisfied customers who have had accounts with our organization for five and ten, and fifteen years-they will tell you that right here is where satisfaction is a certainty.

Isn't this good enough for you.

Disputed Baby Again Figures In Legal Fight

Garner's Propose Blood Tests and Finger Prints in Desperate Effort to Secure Custody of Tiny Louise Madelaine.

Like Solomon, Judge George L. Bell, in the civil division of Fulton superior court, will be forced by circumstances to determine which mother has the right to Louise Madelaine, who was born at Grady hospital on the morning of May 12, 1919, and whom both Mrs. J. C. Garner and Mrs. D. L. Pittman claim to be their child.

By means of finger prints, blood tests and photographs, the Garners will attempt to establish their claim to the baby, who is in the possession of the Pittmans and who is the central figure in the famous "mixed baby" case.

The case found its way into the court on a writ of habeas corpus brought by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Garner against Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Pittman and the hearing on the case was begun Thursday morning before Judge Bell. He adjourned court at 1:30 o'clock Thursday and announced that the hearing will be resumed Friday at 9:30 a. m.

Attorney William Arnaud, for the Garners, stated after adjournment Thursday that Friday morning he will place on the stand a fingerprint expert and would show that there exists a great similarity between the finger prints of Mr. and Mrs. Garner and their three little girls. This testimony will be used to show that if finger prints of the disputed baby resemble prints of the other Garners, she is one of the family.

"Persuasive Evidence." Testimony based on blood tests and finger prints will not be offered as conclusive proof of the parentage of the child, but "as persuasive evidence" to strengthen the probability of the parentage of the Garners.

The court room was crowded when the case was called Thursday and the Garners and their three little girls faced the Pittmans and Louise Madelaine, who slept through the session.

On May 22, 1919, girl babies were born to Mrs. Pittman and Mrs. Garner at Grady hospital. Mrs. Garner claims that the babies were exchanged by the carelessness of an attendant and that the baby the Pittmans have in their possession is her baby. When the baby that she had and believed to be the Pittman baby died last spring, she said, "My baby is not dead; this is Mrs. Pittman's baby." Mary Elizabeth, who was in possession of the Garners until her death from influenza, was accepted by Mrs. Garner and her mother. She was the "unclaimed baby," and died when the case was first brought into court last spring.

Expert Testifies. The first witness was Dr. A. H. Bunce, an expert in pathology, who was called by the plaintiffs in an effort to establish the parentage of Louise Madelaine by blood tests. He testified that human blood is classified in four groups, most people belonging to group two or four. He said that he had examined the blood of the Garners and their three little girls and that they were all in "group two."

Dr. Bunce stated that he could not prove conclusively the parentage of a child by means of blood test, but that it was possible to show similarity between the blood of the disputed child and its parent. At the conclusion of Dr. Bunce's testimony, Mrs. Garner took the stand to tell her story. She stated that when her baby was born she was not under the influence of chloroform or any other anesthetic and knew everything that was going on in the room.

"I asked the doctor if it was a girl," she continued, "and he said that it was. Then I said that I knew it would be because all my children were girls. It looked like my other children when they were born and it had lots of hair on its head, as they did. There was a scratch on its face, just under the eye, like a finger nail scratch."

Claims Change Was Made. She said the baby was taken from her and placed in another room. At 8 o'clock that night it was brought to her for the first time and again the next morning at 2 o'clock and at 4 o'clock and after that every three hours to be nursed. "It was at 2 o'clock Saturday morning that the exchange was made," she said. "A baby was brought to me by a negro girl named Lily, who worked in the ward. I knew immediately it wasn't mine. It was in a different wrapper from mine and had been wrapped in, there was no scratch on the face, and it didn't have as much hair as my baby. It was a different baby altogether."

As soon as the nurse came in I told her that the wrong baby had been brought to me. She told me to keep it and she would try to straighten out the difference.

"As far as I know, no effort was made to straighten it out. Sunday morning at 9 o'clock by baby was brought to me again. I knew it by the scratch on its face and its hair. Mrs. Pittman said it was hers and the nurse took my baby away from me and gave it to Mrs. Pittman."

She said that she never accepted the wrong baby as her own, but had to take it when she left the hospital because Mrs. Pittman had taken her baby and there was nobody to take care of the other baby. She said that she complained to the nurse, Miss Edgeworth.

Demanding the Baby. Mrs. Garner further stated that the baby she took home had burnished golden hair, blue eyes and its complexion was streaked with red, which was entirely different from her other children.

Mrs. Garner said she went to the Pittman home several times and tried to get them to swap babies, but that Mrs. Pittman admitted Mary Elizabeth had Pittman hair and eyes. Mrs. Pittman refused to entertain any such proposition. During the cross-examination of Mrs. Garner, Lily Wright was called in by the defense and was identified by Mrs. Garner as the attendant who, she said, had exchanged the babies. Mrs. Garner has always made to straighten it out. Sunday morning at 9 o'clock by baby was brought to me again. I knew it by the scratch on its face and its hair. Mrs. Pittman said it was hers and the nurse took my baby away from me and gave it to Mrs. Pittman."

She said that she never accepted the wrong baby as her own, but had to take it when she left the hospital because Mrs. Pittman had taken her baby and there was nobody to take care of the other baby. She said that she complained to the nurse, Miss Edgeworth.

Don't stay gray! Sage Tea and Sulphur darkens hair so naturally that nobody can tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—(adv.)

Mrs. Albert Thornton, Sr., Heads Federated Women of Atlanta

At an open meeting held yesterday in the auditorium of the chamber of commerce, Mrs. Albert Thornton, Sr., was elected president of the Atlanta Federation of clubs. Mrs. Wilmer Moore, vice president and Mrs. Edwin A. Peoples, corresponding secretary.

As Mrs. Joseph Moody, in making her report as chairman of the nominating committee, said "in looking back over the markedly fine work done by the women of Atlanta during the period of the war, these women stood out for the activity, identity and efficiency of their work, in three of Atlanta's most useful organizations. As the city federation is the clearing house of all Atlanta's 138 federated organizations, these three understood the work of correlation needed, and the broad purposes of the city federation."

Mrs. Thornton has been for years identified with the best work Atlanta women have done for churches, education and cultural activities and she at present heads the Atlanta Art association. She has been a member of the American Red Cross since 1898 and had participated in several of Atlanta's best charities. She has the following of Atlanta's best known and most energetic young women, and this interest she will draw to the city federation.

Yesterday's Meeting. Mrs. Benjamin Elsas presided at the meeting held yesterday and introduced the new president. Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin proposed resolutions of sympathy to Mrs. A. P. Coles, the resigning president of the city federation, in the past of the city federation, in the past of the city federation, in the past of the city federation.

Interested in Many Ways. Mrs. Thornton has continued her interest in the Red Cross, and that work in the Y. W. C. A. which grew out of the war council of the national Y. W. C. A. of which she was a member, the local branch organized at her house.

Mrs. Thornton was instrumental in an organized interest here in the Atlanta branch of the Drama League and she sponsored the first lectures given here by Dr. William Norman Guthrie, and Dr. Benedict Papot, the first lectures given in her home.

In aesthetic and practical lines, Mrs. Thornton is admirably equipped to lead in the activities of the city federation which acts as a kind of clearing house for all the work along all lines which Atlanta women so energetically do.

Able Assistants. Mrs. Wilmer Moore is a member of the order of Old-Fashioned Women and their work ante-dating the war, and she did an invaluable and extensive war work, both through organizations and individually, no woman being more purely identified with the wounded and sick soldiers in the Fort McPherson base hospital.

To Judge George Johnson for his untiring co-operation and sympathy in outlining constructive plans for the improvement of local conditions. To Chief Beavers and the honorable board of police commissioners for their uniform courtesy and assistance in developing plans for the betterment of the young women directly under their supervision. To Dr. Newdigate Owensby for the valuable assistance given by him in making mental examinations (where considered advisable) of women prisoners before they appeared before the judge for trial. To Dr. J. F. Kennedy, and the honorable board of health for recognizing the great value of Dr. Owensby's work to the community and graciously accepting his offer to do this work.

Reports Made. Resolutions were also passed by which the city federation pledged its co-operation with the state federation in the matter of the censorship of moving pictures.

Mrs. Thornton in reporting for the Atlanta Art association said the association planned the establishment of an art gallery for which purpose they have a Piedmont park, and a fund of $25,000. For the Atlanta Overseas club, Mrs. John W. Moore made a stirring appeal for the federation's co-operation in this direction calling the attention of the club women to the art exhibit to be made at the forthcoming southeastern fair.

Mrs. Blanche Loverside reported as chairman of the committee on vocational education. Mrs. Clay Moore reported on the activities of the East Lake Woman's club, with its fourteen active committees. A report was made for Mrs. Purdy, chairman of the North Avenue Parent-Teacher association.

Co-operating Clubs. From the Associated Charities came an illuminating report on the good accomplished through the fund to which the city federation contributed, and through which 29 children had been benefited this summer; also the gardens, which had been initiated by the Associated Charities and in which federated women had interested themselves.

Mrs. William O'Beir reported for Mrs. Barker, the chairman of the Moreland Avenue Parent-Teacher association, where a baby health center has been established by Dr. De Villiers, of the state health department.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, chairman of the citizenship committee, gave an interesting report of the extension of citizenship as a study through the federated clubs, mentioning October as a month in which registration was a special study.

A report was made from the Woman's club of Emory university, showing the valuable work of the women in the university settlement for practical as well as cultural activities.

Mrs. W. H. Harris reported for the Travelers' Aid, and Mrs. Newton Wing for the curb market and the milk fund.

Mrs. J. E. Sommerfield reminded the federated women of their ob-

Biscuits That Delight Everyone

MY! but they're good—those pipin' hot biscuits made with Ballard Self-Rising Flour. They just fairly melt in your mouth.

And they're so easy to make. Ballard Self-Rising Flour is ready prepared. It contains all the soda, salt and baking powder. You simply add the shortening and milk or water—and presto! You'll bake the finest batch of biscuits you ever tasted.

Think how economical it is, too—and quick, sure and simple. You don't have to guess—all the ingredients are mixed in correct proportions. It would cost you a fourth more to buy them and mix them yourself—and the result is certain to please.

Women who use Ballard Self-Rising Flour have a distinct pride in their tables. It is the pride that comes of knowing that they serve only the best, most delicious biscuits, rolls and cakes.

We have the same pride in our mills. We make our flour out of the very best wheat—fine, plump grains of Winter wheat. It is milled in the most modern way and finally sifted thru silk to insure its purity and cleanliness. It comes to you ready to bake—saving you time, trouble and money, and guaranteeing you the best of results. Ask your grocer for the best self rising flour he has

Miss Jennings and Mr. Woodson Wed at St. Luke's Church

The marriage of Miss Anna Huger Jennings and Mrs. James Pettigrew Woodson was an event in which interest centered throughout South Carolina and Georgia, and took place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at St. Luke's Episcopal church, in the presence of a large company of friends and relatives.

The altar was decorated with stately palms, and on either side were pedestal baskets filled with bride's roses and alternating with cathedral candlesticks holding lighted candles.

Bridal Party.
Rev. W. W. Memminger was the officiating minister, and the ushers were Mr. Shepherd Bryan, Mr. Allen Pettigrew, Mr. Van Holt Hull and Mr. R. H. Lowndes. Colonel Robert S. Woodson, U. S. A., father of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. James R. Parker was groomsmen. A program of organ music was rendered before the entrance of the bridal party.

The maid of honor was Miss Phyllis Wilkins, who was gowning in Nile green satin, trimmed with silver garnitures and flowers and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Sallie Carriere, was gowning in pink tulle, trimmed in tulle and silver, and her flowers were pink roses.

The flower girls, little Misses Muriel Turner and Helen Parker, wore ruffled pink organdie dresses, and carried fragrant bouquets.

Lovely Bride.
The lovely bride was gowning in white satin embroidered in pearls and rhinestones, with court train draped in tulle. Her bouquet was of bride's roses showered with swansons. The long tulle veil was finished with a bandeau of orange blossoms caught at back. She was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. E. L. Jennings.

The groom's mother, Mrs. William Jennings, wore black embroidered net, over white satin, finished with green and silver girdle and steel sequins.

An informal reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Robert S. Woodson, of Huntington, W. Va., was elegantly gowning in black satin, with garnitures of sequins and a bouquet of pink roses.

The bride is a beautiful young girl of the brunette type, and she is very brilliant mentally. She graduated from Agnes Scott college, and also went to Gunston Hall, in Washington, D. C. She belongs to the Huger and Jennings families of Charleston, S. C., as does Mr. Woodson, the groom, having descended from the Pettigrew family of South Carolina on his maternal side, and the Woodsons of Virginia on his paternal side.

Mr. Woodson was graduated from the University of Wisconsin, where he was educated in civil engineering, and also went to the Citadel in Charleston, S. C., before attending the University of Michigan. He served overseas with the 324 division as lieutenant in the engineering corps. He was in France with his division, and has a splendid war record. The romance of the bride and groom was begun when he was stationed in Atlanta at Camp Gordon.

Mr. Woodson and his bride left for a wedding journey in the east, and will afterward reside in Birmingham, where he is connected with the Alabama Power company.

ROBINSON ORDERED TO REPORT AT TECH

James M. Robinson, graduate from the Georgia School of Technology of last year's class, has been commissioned second lieutenant in coast artillery, and has received temporary orders to report for duty under the commandant at Tech. Lieutenant Robinson made application for a first lieutenancy and was recommended for this grade by the examining board, but his age prevented his availability for this rank.

Superfluous Hair Now Removed Roots and All! (New and Instantaneous Home Method)

A boon to women troubled with superfluous hair is the new electrolytic process. It is totally unlike the depilatory, electrical and other methods heretofore employed for the removal of hairy growths. It is the only thing that enables one to remove the hair completely—roots and all—in one's own home, without the assistance of an expert. The result cannot be doubted, for the user sees the hair-roots with her own eyes.

A stick of electrolytic, with easy directions, can be had at any drugstore. It is entirely harmless (a child could safely eat it), odorless and non-irritating. It is an instantaneous method, and so thorough that the skin is left perfectly smooth and hairless, bearing not the least evidence of its former disfigurement.—(adv.)

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.—(adv.)

To Re-establish Strength After Sickness.

How Many People In This City Have Done So?

There is one great drawback to recovery for a person who has been sick, and that is poor devitalized blood and consequent weakness, nervousness and depleted strength. If people in this city who have been ill and are still in a weakened condition could only realize the value of Vinol to enrich the blood, create a hearty appetite and restore strength, druggists would not be able to supply the demand.

For all run-down, nervous, anemic conditions, and for delicate children and feeble old people, there is no other remedy like Vinol.—(adv.)

BOARD OF VISITORS HOLDS MEET TODAY

The first meeting during the present school term of the board of lady visitors of the Atlanta public schools will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the city hall. Mrs. A. F. Tripod, president of the board, will render her report at the meeting.

Mrs. Hinton Hopkins, who for some time has represented the alumnus ward on the board, has tendered her resignation, and the selection of her successor is anticipated when the board of education meets at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Georgia Woman Praises Nestling Powders.

In the home of Mrs. M. B. Guy, of Manchester, Georgia, you will always find a box of Nestling Powders. Mrs. Guy in a recent letter to this company says, "I have kept a box of Nestling Powders in my home constantly for the past four years and I consider them unexcelled for children during teething time. It keeps their little digestive organs in perfect shape. Thousands of mothers have been using Nestling Powders to safeguard the health of their infants and children for the last ten years. They tend to increase the weight, better the appetite, induce normal sleep and good digestion. You will see the results in baby's cheeks as the condition of the digestive organs and the blood improves and the bowels start functioning properly. Doctors and druggists immediately recognize the worth of Nestling Powders from the formula, which is printed on every box. Send for our little 8-page booklet which briefly describes the many diseases peculiar to babyhood and tells how each one should be treated. Ask for the names of some of the delighted mothers who have used Nestling Powders. It does not have Nestling Powders in stock send us his name and forty cents and we will send you a full sized package of twenty powders. Nestling Powders Company, Manchester, Ga.—(adv.)

Will Place One of the Crystal Electric Washing Machines in Your Home; Balance in Monthly Payments.

"Oh, It Washes Everything!"

Charming little afternoon gowns, voiles, dotted Swiss, and even hand-worked underthings are just as safe in the Crystal as the coarser household fabrics.

Because the Crystal cylinder turns only in one direction through the steaming, bubbling suds, it washes with an easy gentleness. And the scientific construction of its interior assures a thorough cleansing in fifteen minutes or less.

Because of this One Way principle, the Crystal is a superior washing machine—silent, strong supple, thoroughgoing and gentle.

VETERANS OF DIXIE

All Other Principal Officers Also Re-Elected. Committee to Select City for the Next Reunion.

Houston, Texas, October 7.—The United Veterans, in annual reunion here today, re-elected by acclamation all their principal officers, completed their sessions and turned their attention to the parade tomorrow morning.

The officers re-elected, headed by Gen. K. M. Van Zandt, of Fort Worth, Texas, commander-in-chief, were chosen without opposition. They included Gen. Julius S. Carr, of Durham, N. C., commander of the department of the Army of Northern Virginia; Gen. Virgil Y. Cook, of Batesville, Ark., commander of the Trans-Mississippi department, and Gen. Calvin B. Vance, of Batesville, Miss., commander of the department of the Army of Tennessee.

Selection of next year's reunion city was left to a committee, headed by the Commander-in-chief and including in its membership all the departmental divisional commanders. This committee, it was stated, will receive invitations and announce its selection probably in several months.

Forrest Heads the Sons.
The Sons of Confederate Veterans, the Confederate Southern Memorial association and the Forrest cavalry corps also elected officers today.

Nathan B. Forrest, of Biloxi, Miss., was re-elected commander of the Sons of Veterans; James F. Tatum, of Berkeley, Va., was chosen commander of the department of north Virginia for another term; B. A. Lincoln, of Columbia, Miss., was re-elected commander of the Tennessee department, and S. F.

STATE OF GEORGIA

A PROCLAMATION.
Submitting a proposed amendment to the Constitution of Georgia, to be voted on at the general election, to be held in November, 1920, to amend Paragraph 1, Section 15, of Article 6, of the Constitution of Georgia, relative to increase in salaries of Judges of the Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and Superior Courts.

By his excellency,
Governor.

Whereas, the General Assembly, at its session in 1920, proposed an amendment to the Constitution of this State, as set forth in an act approved August 17, 1920, to-wit:

SALARIES OF JUSTICES OF SUPREME COURT AND JUDGES OF COURT OF APPEALS.
No. 775.
An Act to amend Paragraph 1, Section 15, of Article 6, of the Constitution of Georgia, relative to the salaries of the Justices of the Supreme Court and of Judges of the Court of Appeals and of Judges of the Superior Courts, so as to increase the salaries of the Justices of the Supreme Court, the Judges of the Court of Appeals, the Judges of the Superior Courts and for other purposes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Georgia, that it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, that paragraph 1, of section 15, of article 6, of the constitution of the state of Georgia, relating to salaries of the justices of the supreme court, and of the judges of the court of appeals, and of the judges of the superior courts, be and the same is hereby amended so as to provide that the justices of the supreme court each shall have out of the treasury of the state salaries of $7,000 per annum; the judges of the court of appeals each shall have out of the treasury of the state salaries of $5,000 per annum; the judges of the superior court each shall have out of the treasury of the state salaries of $3,000 per annum; provided that the county of Chatham shall, from its treasury, pay to the judge of the superior court of the eastern circuit $3,000 per annum; said payments are hereby declared to be a part of the county expenses of said county, and shall be made to the judge now in office, as well as to his successors. Provided further, That the board of county commissioners of Fulton county, or such other board of persons as may from time to time exercise the administrative powers of Fulton county, shall have power and authority to pay the judges of the superior court of Fulton county such sums, in addition to the salaries paid by the state, as said administrative authority or authorities may deem advisable, and the amounts so paid are declared to be a part of the county expenses of said county. Provided further, That the board of county commissioners of the counties of Clarke, Floyd, Sumter, Bibb and Richmond, or such other board or person as may from time to time exercise the administrative powers of said several counties, may supplement from the respective county's treasuries the salaries of the judges of the circuits of which they are a part by such sum as may be necessary with salaries paid each of said judges from the state treasury to make the total of $8,000 each per annum of such judges; and such payments are declared to be a part of the county expenses of said counties, and such payments shall be made to the judges now in office, as well as to their successors. Provided further, That the county of Fulton may supplement the salary of the judge of the Stone Mountain circuit, or the judge of such other circuit as may be hereafter required to regularly reside therein, for additional services rendered in the superior court of said county, such sums as will, with the salary paid such judge from the state treasury, make a salary of $8,000 per annum; said payments are declared to be a part of the county expenses of Fulton county, such payments to be made to the judge now in office, as well as to his successors. The provisions of this amendment shall take effect and the salaries herein provided for shall begin from the ratification of this amendment, as provided in the second section hereof, and shall apply to the incumbents in the several offices, as well as their successors.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted that if this amendment shall be agreed to by two-thirds of the members of the general assembly of each house, the same shall be entered on their journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and the governor shall cause the amendment to be published in one or more of the newspapers in each congressional district for at least two months immediately preceding the next general election, and the same shall be submitted to the people at the next general election, and ratification as shown by the majority of the electors voting at the election shall be a part of the general assembly, then said amendment shall become a part of paragraph 1, of section 15, of article 6, of the constitution of this state, and the governor shall make proclamation thereof.

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted, That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are repealed.
Now, therefore, I, Hugh M. Dorsey, governor of said state, hereby declare that the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution is submitted for ratification or rejection to the voters of the state, qualified to vote for members of the general assembly at the general election to be held on Tuesday, November 2, 1920.
By his excellency,
Governor.
R. G. MCLENDON,
Secretary of State.

Cartier, commander of the newly organized Albert Sidney Johnson camp of Houston, was elected commander of the Trans-Mississippi department.

Members of the executive council of the Sons of Veterans were elected as follows:

Ray Price, Washington, representing the North Virginia department; Steve H. King, Tulsa, Okla., Trans-Mississippi department; John Ashley Jones, Atlanta, Ga., department of Tennessee, and McDonald Lee, Covington, Va., councilman-at-large.

The Forrest cavalry corps chose Gen. W. A. Collier, of Memphis, as its commander-in-chief for the ensuing year, and the Memorial association elected the following officers:

Mrs. A. Mackinbrough, Greenwood, Miss., president; Mrs. Emmet L. Merry, Tulsa, Okla., national organizer; and Mrs. W. H. Crowder, of Tulsa, president of the Oklahoma branch.

$85,000,000 Cotton Tax.

At the afternoon session of the veterans resolutions were adopted asking the United States government to have the enlistment records of the Confederate soldiers printed and bound, so they may be preserved, and to have the government turn over to the states which formed the Confederacy $85,000,000 said to have been collected in cotton tax at the close of the civil war. The money would be used by the states-in-pension former Confederate soldiers.

Another resolution adopted provided for appointment of a committee to take steps looking to the removal of the body of Mrs. Jefferson Davis from Bayou Sara, La., to Richmond, Va., where the body of the president of the Confederacy was buried.

The Sons of Veterans adopted resolutions endorsing a movement for construction of a trans-continental highway through the southern part of the United States.

A plea was made this afternoon for the help of the veterans, the Sons of Veterans and the United Daughters of the Confederacy in raising money to complete a monument of Jefferson Davis at Fairview, Ky. This monument, when completed, would be 300 feet high and the second highest of its kind in the world, the Washington monument alone exceeding it, according to speakers.

Judge Hillier Speaks.
Memorial services followed a business session this morning. Judge Hillier, of Atlanta, Ga., was a speaker at the morning session. The subject of his address was cotton tax and pensions.

The first death among visiting veterans occurred some time last night, when C. A. Leaverton, 82 years old, a resident of Norman, Leon county, Texas, died, presumably while asleep. His death was pronounced due to natural causes.

Hundreds of old soldiers who had looked forward to tonight's grand ball, scheduled to be given in their honor, were doomed to disappointment. They were crowded out by several thousand persons other than veterans or official women.

Tomorrow's parade will start at 10 a. m. The procession, it is expected, will be several miles long, but the line of march will be less than two miles, in consideration of the advanced age of the veterans who will march in the parade.

STOLEN AUTOMOBILES RECOVERED BY COPS

Two of the three automobiles reported Wednesday to the police as stolen were recovered Thursday, they being a coupe belonging to Walter Rich, of 17 St. Louis drive, and a car belonging to Mrs. S. Lovett.

Mr. Rich's machine was found by Call Officers Fain and Gresham at the corner of Stewart avenue and Rockwell street, where it was abandoned by thieves after it had been stripped of tires and accessories. This is the second time within the last 50 days that Mr. Rich's car was stolen, and it has been recovered both times by Officers Fain and Gresham.

Mrs. Lovett's car was taken from in front of her residence at 407 East Tenth street Wednesday night. It was found abandoned Thursday morning. All of the gasoline had been used.

Nat Goodwin's stage success "When We Were Twenty-one" with H. B. Warner in the part made famous by Goodwin, is receiving its finishing touches as a screen production at the Jesse B. Hampton studio in Los Angeles.

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Drink lots of water and stop eating meat for a while if your bladder troubles you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's uric waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times a night. Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist a couple of four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys; it is a natural, healthful, and safe remedy for uric acid in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink.—(adv.)

SPECIAL TAX LEVY INDICATED BY KEY

Letter to Council, Disapproving Increases, Does Not Touch on Proportion of Permissible Emergency Tax for Schools.

In disapproving a proposed increase of $25 per month for each of four employees in the office of the city clerk, Mayor Key indicated for the first time Thursday that he would recommend a special tax levy at the beginning of the approaching year. It was not intimated what proportion of the permissible one-half of 1 per cent emergency tax the mayor will recommend, but in the letter containing the disapproval of the salary raises he stated that "in order to maintain the present pay roll it will be necessary to levy a special tax for the school teachers in a large amount for the year 1921."

The salary increases voted Thursday by Mayor Key were the first to be disapproved by him during his tenure of office. In declining to give his approval, it was pointed out by the mayor that he does not favor boosting salaries at this time because of the general trend of economic affairs to a pre-war status.

To the General Council, City of Atlanta, Georgia: I am returning without my approval a resolution adopted at the last session of the council and aldermanic board, increasing the salaries of four employees in the office of the city clerk.

I take pleasure in stating that this body of employees are efficient in their work, courteous and obliging to the public.

Conditions Changing. The schedule of salaries paid in the clerk's office is quite equal to that paid in other departments of the city and in some instances is above that paid in other departments of the city for similar grades of work.

Since I have been mayor I have approved every salary increase that has been presented to me. Twice in my annual messages to the council I have advised the raise in pay for the city employees, to meet changing conditions, and in many instances, I have gone before the finance committee and advocated raises in pay.

I take pleasure in stating that conditions are changing again, and changing very rapidly. This is a general tendency everywhere, and the cost of living has already been considerably decreased, and will decrease even more considerably in the near future; and this is not the time to begin a general increase in the salaries paid by the city.

The salaries that are being paid compare favorably with salaries paid in civil employments of a like character. If the city is able to pay the equal salary and by other employers, no reasonable complaint can be made.

If this increase is made it would be establishing a precedent which in effect would mean that the city would have to pay a general increase in salaries in other city departments.

In the year 1919 the city paid its employees a total of $1,000,000 more than it did in 1918, and in this year, 1920, the city paid its employees a total of $1,000,000 more than it did in 1919, and in this year, 1921, it will be necessary to pay a special tax for the school teachers in a large amount for the year 1921.

The taxpayers are now paying the city taxes at the rate of $1.625, and those who pay the taxes are to be considered as well as those who absorb them.

For these reasons I disapprove the resolution. Mayor Key also addressed to council Thursday a letter in which he explained his reasons for vetoing the contract between the city and Marshall Neims to probe proper places on the city tax books.

Under the contract Mr. Neims was to have received $1.5 per cent of the taxes thus collected.

Mayor Key declared that if the force of the assessor's office is not sufficient to take care of the work, the city should employ additional help, instead of employing outsiders at compensation that would be all out of proportion to services rendered.

It was recommended that the tax committee decide on a plan whereby the tax office itself can perform the work proposed under the disapproved contract.

It is indicated that there was a purpose in his making his Thursday pronouncement, and it is indicated the purpose was to open a drive to break old southern democratic strongholds wherein anti-league sentiment has strikingly developed.

Bender Talks of Georgia. In Missouri, Tennessee and Georgia there have been unmistakable indications of strong opinion against the league as drafted at Versailles.

In Missouri, to a degree and in Georgia, to a greater extent, the question has disrupted party solidarity. In the former state, regarded this year as doubtful, though normally democratic, Senator Reed is off the reservation, is a bitter anti-leaguer and within the last two days has sided with his republican colleagues, Senator Spencer, in a question of veracity arising between Spencer and President Wilson. Anent certain alleged statements made by Wilson at Paris, Reed has been repudiated by the Missouri state democratic organization, but is still a strong factor in home politics, with a large personal following. The race in Missouri is sufficiently close that Reed might prove the deciding element. Obviously, therefore, Harding's attitude just expressed toward the "Wilson league" might be expected to find sympathetic lodging in the minds of those democrats of Missouri who follow Reed, if they develop to the boiling stage.

Georgia Republicans. In Georgia, the voters within the last few months have three times thrown a heavy majority of their votes against candidates for office who have favored the league. While it is almost beyond reason to conceive of Georgia going republican, nevertheless some republican leaders in recent moments of high barometric pressure over the outlook as they saw it, have ventured the belief that Georgia, on the league issue, might swing republican this year. However doubtful this might seem, and in view of certain utterances by Harding on the negro question, which have not set particularly well in southern states, such a result certainly seems utterly impossible.

In the event, the republicans feel they have a real chance to do business this year. Senator Shields, senior democratic senator from that state, opposed the Wilson league during the long senate debate. Ten years ago already has two republicans, an congressman and the republicans, and this fall expect to increase this number to a total of three.

The situation has been regarded by the democrats as sufficiently annoying at least to warrant sending Cox personally into the state.

Wants a New Deal. So it is not difficult to see why Harding has come out for a new deal all around on the league subject. He has been informed that both in the west and south many democrats as well as republicans favor a league. But in the case of these democrats as well as the republican league, they don't want the "Wilson league."

Right here, however, there arises an interesting possibility in the post-election situation, assuming that Harding will be chosen. Republicans of the type of Taft, Hoover, Wickersham and others of the pro-league element, firmly believe that the United States is bound to accept in principle the league covenant as laid down at Versailles.

That, as Taft has repeatedly said, constitutes the foundation of what ever agreement may come between the nations. Approach to the other nations of the world with an entirely new project, asking them to lay aside something they have subscribed to and built upon and accept what America alone advances, he has said, would be rewarded by scorn and failure.

Hoover for League. Hoover has completed an address he is to deliver in Minneapolis Saturday night, in which he takes an unequivocal stand in behalf of a league of nations, with the present covenant as its foundation.

The answer to the situation, in event of Harding's election, will unquestionably be a compromise between those elements who would have nothing of the present covenant whatever and those who believe that the covenant should form the basis for the new league.

The new association of nations was to be spun. A symposium of Harding's utterances on the subject reveal the cleverness with which he has met an extremely difficult situation and the same symposium shows that once elected he can throw away the present league in its entirety, and start all over or take from the present covenant those parts to which objection has not been raised and build from them, or advance no league at all—and still adhere to the line of his pre-election addresses.

That he will take the middle ground building from parts of the present covenant—after first scrapping it altogether—is the conviction of republican leaders who are directly in touch with Harding's mind on the subject.

PAINT MEN ARE TOLD OF NATIONAL DRIVE

125 Hear Doctrine of "Save the Surface" Explained by Experts.

More than 125 members of paint and varnish concerns of Atlanta and vicinity attended the dinner of the Atlanta Paint club here Thursday night at the Ansley hotel in the interest of the national "save the surface" campaign being promoted and fostered by the paint and varnish and allied industries of the country.

The campaign is an educational movement which was inaugurated nearly two years ago at a gathering of 800 men representing 80 per cent of the paint and varnish industry of the country, in point of volume, who contributed an extensive advertising campaign launched in March, 1919.

The campaign was explained to the Atlanta paint club, by C. W. Cousins, representing campaign headquarters at Philadelphia, and C. A. Dana Redmond, of the Boston Varnish company. Both are touring the south in the interest of the movement and will appear before paint and varnish men in principal southern cities during the remainder of this week and throughout next week.

A series of reprints from advertisements recently published in magazines of national circulation were projected on a screen. Both speakers dwelt on the point that people do not realize the value of paint as a protection for their property against age and weather, and urged the importance of educating the user as to the real merits of paint and varnish.

USE OF DUMMIES TO CONCEAL FUNDS

Schantz, however, did not appear as a contributor to any of the three speakers, the contributions being what came from numerous persons, including local county democratic leaders.

On February 3, 1919, Mr. Schantz testified, the Dayton flood prevention committee, of which he was a member, held a meeting and voted unanimously to pay $24,945.50 to a number of "dummy" employees, who, in turn, paid the money back to him personally, and he, in turn, reimbursed the original donors.

Deeds, Talbot, Kettering, Kidder, Taft and himself in proportion to what they had given to the campaign fund.

Pomeroy's Objected. Continuously during the hearing Senator Pomeroy voiced his disapproval of going into matters which he asserted were not germane to the purpose for which the senate committee was created—that of investigating presidential campaign contributions.

Senator Edge admitted that the investigation had gotten into a foreign field, but insisted that inasmuch as Governor Cox had attacked contributions to the republican campaign fund, it was pertinent to show that he had no objections to how contributions had been made to his previous campaign funds.

NEGRO BEING HELD UNDER SUSPICION OF BOLD ROBBERY

Charlie Harris, negro, of 171 East Cain street, is being held behind the bars at police station under a blanket charge of suspicion in connection with the robbery of a wagon of the Parcel Delivery company Wednesday afternoon, and police are making a thorough investigation for other negroes implicated in the theft, but up to a late hour Thursday night no other arrests had been made.

Harris' arrest was brought about by the alleged identification of his automobile as the one into which the stolen goods were transferred, the robbery action being made by Thomas Crew, who was driving the parcel wagon at the time of the theft.

The wagon was stolen about 12:30 o'clock Wednesday from in front of 349 Peachtree street, and was driven by the robbers to a point near Grant field, where it is claimed the goods were transferred into a high-powered automobile.

President W. C. Henegar, of the Parcel Delivery company, Thursday did not know that the loss would exceed $500.

Every participant is expected to be at the Auditorium at 7:15 o'clock this evening for the first rehearsal of the Lakewood pageant, "From Days of Old." Mrs. Urie S. Atkinson, in announcing the rehearsal, declares it is of the utmost importance to have a full attendance. Not many rehearsals of the pageant will be held, and its success or failure, she declares, depends on everybody being at the Auditorium tonight.

Uncle Remus and his friends will be some of the interesting characters portrayed in the "From Days of Old," the pageant to be presented at the Southeastern fair on the evenings of October 16, 18 and 27, by a cast of 1,200 Atlantans under the auspices of the Atlanta Center of the Drama League of America.

They will appear in the antebellum episode of the pageant, for which the setting will be the exterior of an old southern mansion with the quarters of the slave in the background. While the guests in the costumes of the period arrive, Uncle Remus will be seen issuing from his cabin. Around him will gather a group of little boys and girls, in the quaint flowered muslins and pantalettes of the period. Then, while Uncle Remus tells his tales, there will appear Br'er Rabbit, Br'er Fox, Br'er Ba'n, Br'er Wolf, Br'er Terrapin and other beloved animals of his imagination.

This is but one of the distinctive episodes in "From Days of Old." Costumes are now being originated which, it is said, will be the lavish, most spectacular and most varied ever shown in an Atlanta pageant. They will range from the buckskin and heads of the backwoodsman to the dainty flowing robes of Georgia's resources, from the hoopskirts and crinolines of "before the war" to the white garments of the Ku-Klux Klan.

One of the big episodes of the pageant will be a pyrotechnical display of the battle of Atlanta.

Luck Helped Dodgers to Win, Speaker Made Bad Experiment For Fray Saturday

By Sending Caldwell to Mound

BY HUGH FULLERTON.
Brooklyn, October 2.—(Special.)—Cleveland's experiment today in sending Caldwell to the mound was a failure. The theory of the world's series seems to be to save a couple of thousand dollars and retire a player who is not a pitcher. Speaker tried it yesterday and the game was lost before there was a chance to demonstrate whether or not it was correct.

An error and a Texas league fly, which dropped over the infield, gave the Dodgers two runs, and fighting with dogged determination, fighting desperately and aided by luck, the Dodgers made three runs in the first inning and won the game. All the powerful Indians got out of the game when the Indians' pitcher, Sherrod Smith, was run. They were lucky to get that and vastly unlucky not to get four or five more, for while it is painful to confess, the Dodgers needed a tremendous lead of about three runs to hold the lead.

Luck really decided the contest—that is, luck in the sense of the word used by the old-time gamblers. Caldwell, who seems to be wobbling badly.

Sewell in Bad Form.
The fact is that Sewell has shown as poor in the three games that he seems to have upon the entire infield work of the Indians. Wambegans is doing all the covering. Gardner is neglecting some of his own duties in order to help Sewell, which, of course, he cannot do and an air of anxiety pervades the entire infield. The younger is not playing the ball at all, but allowing it to play him and, in spite of his gameness and nerve, he is hurting the team's chances.

The contest was one of the most interesting I have ever seen in a world's series. The dope indicated that Cleveland would win the game, but when Speaker elected Caldwell to pitch, the game looked bad. Caldwell pitched well for the first two innings, but then he was hit by a home run and a double, and one out, Caldwell was compelled to work much harder than he had before. He was hit by a home run and a double, and one out, Caldwell was compelled to work much harder than he had before.

Mails Should Have Started.
That finished Caldwell, and Duster Mails, who is the natural order of things, should have started the game, came on, and Brooklyn had a real chance to score. The luck which has yielded those two runs for the Indians, on the face of the official returns it looks as if Brooklyn's pitcher, Caldwell, had a real chance to score. The luck which has yielded those two runs for the Indians, on the face of the official returns it looks as if Brooklyn's pitcher, Caldwell, had a real chance to score.

The ethics of the world's series, of course, forbid any criticism of any umpire, and far be it from me to criticize Henry O'Day, than whom there are few, if any, better umpires, but to show how the luck ruled this game and to show upon what small things a world's series game and perhaps a whole world's series hinges, it must be recorded that had Hank called one ball different, Cleveland would have won the game by a rather large margin. He called that one ball a strike, and Joe Wood at the start of the fifth inning. It was a fast ball, pitched rather high and rather close to the edge of the plate. O'Day was in a better position to see, and he called it a strike, but it was one of those which Tommy Connolly would say, "as they say, as they say."

This ball was the second strike, and had it been called the other way, it would have been the fourth ball. It looked insignificant at the time, although Wood gave vent to a couple of staccato harks when the decision was handed down, and on the next play Wood was called out on strikes.

Smith Wild.
It was evident that Smith was wild, much wilder than he had been at any time, and he passed Sewell, after which Steve O'Neill whanged out a clean hit to center and brought up an interesting situation. The situation was one created by Speaker himself. Had he not started Caldwell he would, of course, have banked Mails out of the game and sent Les Numamacher to hit in the pinch. Having used up Caldwell, as far as the day's proceedings were concerned, he was about half out of pitchers, and had to choose between using Mails as batter or outfielder.

He chose to let Mails hit. Smith was still wobbly. He was shooting the ball around with considerable lack of precision, when O'Day called another strike. Parleyed it from me to decide whether his decision was right or wrong, but it is pertinent to observe that an American league umpire might have called it a ball. Anyhow, it enraged Mails, who stepped back to the plate and hit the ball eight miles a minute past short.

Olson, who was playing better ball than I ever have seen him play, happened to be where that ball was hit, although an American league shortstop would have played far up back of third base. But, however that may be, Olson was there. He made a great stop and started a brilliant double play.

Had O'Day called that ball a ball, it would have been a run. Olson was there. He made a great stop and started a brilliant double play.

But such is baseball. On the way the game was played Brooklyn won and deserved the victory. The men worked; worked hard, and fought hard, with gritted teeth and with every nerve on edge. Admittedly they are not the best ball club in the world, but they are the best. But they are hustling and fighting and their fighting forced the breaks of the luck. Olson "happened" to be where half a dozen vicious drives were aimed. Kilduff "happened" to be where three smashes that ought normally to have gone through clean. He "happened" to be behind home plate when the first baseman half blocked a fierce drive, and he "happened" to be on what ought to have been a clean base hit. Olson "happened" to cover first base on three occasions. When so many things "happen," one begins to suspect that the Brooklyn bunch is on its toes and hustling for every chance and that, while admitting Cleveland is better, there were several chances for things to "happen" for the Clevelanders today when they did not happen.

Perhaps the result will tend to recall Cleveland crowd into the realization that a ball team cannot win a championship on reputation alone.

Mails Dependable.
The consolation of the Cleveland fans is that something of a doubtful element, showed that he can be depended upon, after the game, he was hit by a home run and a double, and one out, Caldwell was compelled to work much harder than he had before.

BY WALLACE GEORGE.

"Smother Davidson" is the big cry out on the Tech campus now and ardent supporters of the Golden Tornado are looking for a sweeping victory. A large and enthusiastic crowd of students and faculty members gathered at the Tech 7. M. C. A. with Soc. Ingram and Jimmie Johnson leading the yell. Spirit and running higher in the college this year than it has in ages and every meet or practice brings out capacity crowds.

The Frenchmen are rapidly developing superhuman powers and their enthusiasm is a delight to the old men. They are out in full force in their golden headed now and every single one of them will sport his Freshman cap at the big game tomorrow. They will be a real help to the team along with their lusty windpipes before the appearance of the Golden Tornado is ready to open fire on the Davidson tomorrow from the very first moment of the conflict.

The heavy artillery of the Golden Tornado is ready to open fire on the Davidson tomorrow from the very first moment of the conflict. The team is confident of a victory, it is a fact of first water, fully capable of taking care of themselves.

First Test of Year.
To the White and Gold it is the real test of the year and much of their future may be foretold by the way they acquire themselves Saturday against the Presbyterian.

Glenthorpe and Wake Forest served as excellent opponents for early season games, but in the days of a foe who know football and all the gentle arts that pertain thereto.

Predictions have been freely made as to the comparative strength of the Tech eleven this fall and the most part they are unanimous in agreeing that Tech presents the strongest front. But tomorrow will be the real opportunity of Coach Alexander's proteges to show the stuff they're made of and to prove their worth.

A victory of twenty points will mean a team that will prove a match for the best of the South. Tech by thirty or forty will put forward as the premier football team of 1920, to say nothing of the additional worry it will place on Pop Warner's of Pitt.

The exhibition Saturday will be the last appearance of the Tech team in a game before they leave for Nashville, where they take on the Commodore's Commodore's. A week later than this comes the big battle on Forbes' field in Pittsburgh, and it is not unlikely that the Tornado will sweep over Grant Field in many a day, and it was a bitter pill for them to swallow.

This year the Volunteers' chances for a victory are far more promising than they were last year, but they will take the field at about even, unless playing on their home grounds rules them the favorites. They have two victories to their credit already, while Vanderbilt's maiden game last Saturday, winning over Birmingham Southern 34 to 6. The Commodores were weakened considerably by the loss of such men as Cody, Lipscomb and Zerfos, but seem to have rounded out a team with a much better offensive than they had last fall.

Tornado Still Working.
Out at Grant field Thursday afternoon, Coach Alexander put his men to work at a large variety of things, including passing, blocking, dummy tackling and work on the intricate plays and formations. There was no scrimmaging held, sign practice being substituted instead. The first variety presented the same line-up as the one that took the field last Saturday against the Petrels and more than likely the same that goes out to meet Davidson tomorrow.

Quite a bit of time was taken up on the passing and pass formations. Big Chief Guyon has given up his work with the Tech Freshman team for this week and is putting his time in with the varsity backfield and ends. He was directing the aerial attack yesterday, handing the passes himself for quite a while. That he can pass as well as block, he demonstrated yesterday when he hurled the ball through the air over fifty yards, which, as the reader can judge for himself, is quite some feat.

Practice this afternoon will consist of the highest kind of limbering up along with signal work for half an hour or more. The team will be drilled down a fine point now and will enter the game tomorrow in bang-up shape. That the team is in a real as regards machine-like interference, clockwork, offense, and bullet-proof defense, is certain fact for the Tech team will play the game then that they intend to use when they attack Vandy, Pitts and Center.

Qualifying rounds of two city golf club title tournaments will begin this morning. The Brookhaven club and the East Lake club will hold their pre-match tryout, and a large field on both courses are expected to tee off in order to be allowed to contest for club supremacy.

At both clubs, qualifying rounds will be played from scratch, with handicaps applying on the matches, which will start Monday. The second round is expected to be finished next week, while the following week the semi-finals and finals will be played.

Both courses are in excellent shape, especially the East Lake links, as the Southern Open has not long been finished, and the course was then in its very best condition. Both clubs expect to have a large entry list and a sufficient number of qualifiers to fill several flights.

READING CLIMBS, BUT FAILS TO HOLD

Makes High Point for Several Years, But Closes at Net Loss of 1-1/2 Points—Chinese Exchange Weakens.

New York, October 7.—Business on the stock exchange today denoted an increasing division of sentiment in speculative circles. Prices were subjected to a succession of confusing advances and declines, many mixed changes resulting at their close.

In a measure, rallies maintained their recent leadership, a number of high and strong issues, however, playing unusual activity, largely on the resumption of bullish operations by pools and other professional interests. Reading, which featured the long account in yesterday's market, made a new high price for several years at 101-1/4, but ended at a net loss of 1-1/2 points, while Texas and Pacific recovered only the smallest fraction of yesterday's severe loss.

Much of Reading's early strength proceeded from the belief that the directors are considering plans for the early separation of the company's coal properties, with resultant beneficial interest to the stockholders.

Steels and equipments were again influenced in their erratic course by backward trade conditions, which also affected such issues as General Electric, Westinghouse and Harvester, wherein recessions ran to 5 points, while Seaboard suffered a further loss of 3 points.

Oils, shipping, motors and sugars embraced the other uncertain elements of the day, notably Mexican and Pan-American Petroleum, Atlantic Gulf, United Fruit, American International and American Beet Sugar, together with leather, copper and chemical issues.

Foreign exchange money moved from 7 to 8 per cent and back to the lower rate, with time unchanged. The noteworthy movement was the weakness of rates on China, attributed to other decline in silver in the London market.

Traction was strongest feature of the bond market, the Liberty group easing with irregular changes among foreign issues. Total sales, per value, $14,250,000.
